As We See It

WHO LOSES?
THE ADVERTISERS
SLIGHTLY PINK DANCES
THOUGHTS THAT FLASH
By JEAN COPLESTONE

As We See It, there seems to be no way out of this consolidation. It is more than to say that the classes are taking an awful beating when it comes to representation on the class officers. When it comes to developing leadership, they won't get a chance to develop.

After spending an hour with Art Rosen and Prexy Morgan, it still is clear in our minds just what they are out of it except a representation to council. We are thoroughly in favor of having class consolidation with semi-annual elections. If the work out as now stated, the class officer class won't get a chance to be elected in the middle of the year. Certainly the class that graduates in the middle of the year wouldn't want any of their officers in the middle of the year. In other words, during the spring semester, the class wouldn't be happy with a class officer president. We might add that it is a long and hard before voting on a new constitution—it stands for the time.

As We See It, the Alpha Phi Gamma scholarship contest is a perfect example of advertising good old State. The high schools (from whence the students usually come) get State money. They pass the word along and it becomes the coming thing to get into the contest. With all due respect to scholarly people, we think that the contestants don't have an average in order to be in the contest. After all, Phi Beta Kappa has proven not to set the world on fire when it comes to achievements. The student does just as well as he can. We feel it would be a rare thing to have an average among those who are selected to the art of print and the art of the pen.

Call Meet for A. M. S. Election

Thursday, April 30, 8:30 p.m.
Annex B, room 2.
Nominations for A. M. S. Officers and Entertainment.
Nominations for the offices of the Associated Students should be in order on Thursday, April 30, when that organization will hold its meeting in Room 2, Annex B, at 8:30 p.m.

Art Atkinson, president of the A. M. S., stated: "This meeting is of vital importance to every man in S. F. State and it is his duty to attend this meeting. It will combine business with pleasure, as we will have the nomination of officers and food. Of the past meetings we have had, there has been very little cooperation on the part of the men, and it is high time that they woke up to the fact that these meetings are held for their benefit. It shouldn't take any coaxing for anybody to get them to attend."

There will be a variety of entertainers including Charles Mauer and Earl Jacobs, impersonators, with a chorus assisting at the piano.

It is the wish of the officers of the A. M. S. that every man come to this meeting, especially lower classmen, as their nominations and support in the election will have a great bearing on the Associated Men's Student meeting.

Candidates Make Last Minute Appeal For Support at "Vote Getting" Assembly

Question Hopkins' Standing as Candidate! Constitution Provisions Cause Debate

"If I am elected—"
Dragging the venerable phrase from its resting place, eighteen candidates yesterday voiced their pleas for support in seeking twelve student body officers. Eight of the appeals were of a rather silent or pleading nature, since the candidates for the Board of Publications were not allowed to solicit votes as did the other aspirants to student body offices.

Hopkins Ineligibility
Darryl Hopkins, candidate for Treasurer, will remain in the race for that office despite an adverse ruling of Dean Butler as to his eligibility. According to a strict interpretation of upper class standards, Hopkins would still be five units or more short of true upper division standing after completing a summer session course.

Ed Morgan said the Executive Board had checked Hopkins' units with Dean Valentine and that the latter had ruled an allowance could be made in Hopkins' case in view of the fact that he was taking a large number of upper division courses next fall. Morgan also stated that the Executive Board had interpreted his position as eligible and would assume full responsibility for his candidacy.

The main characters in the drama of Who Will Be Elected When the Votes Are Finally Cast were Cy Atkinson and Ed Cockrum. Running for president, these two presented platforms that were as varied in some ways as they were similar in others.

Atkinson presented a platform that would awaken student spirit. His idea that the only way to instill spirit in the average student was through a spiritual kick-in-the-pants was enhanced by his adoption of four mythical jackasses as the foundation of his platform. "In this manner we will get things done around this college," Atkinson declared. "Such worth-while projects as the Student Union will become more than a campaign of the paper."

Cockrum, in supporting the new constitution, declared that the time for dreaming was past and that the college should awaken to future possibilities. "We should develop all those activities that will assure us of our rightful place as the third largest state college in California," Cockrum declared. "The only way is to work for a more unified student body."

Causes Comment
Two constitutional provisions caused some comment as the person chosen to present the negative side of the consolidation of classes provision declared himself in favor of the plan! Bud Decker, supposed champion of the negative, declared, "I am in favor of the plan as a definite step forward!"

The proponents of the plan were championed by Art Rosen. Rosen declared that the consolidation of the classes would be beneficial in that it would cut the class social calendar and allow added support to the club and group activities on the campus.

Financial Stability
"It would be a case of the dances and activities financing themselves, rather than the student body treasury being asked to bear the brunt of the losses," Rosen declared.

The other constitution provision had to do with the selection of the athletic manager by the athletic council and the subsequent removal of the office from the politics of the college.

The rest of the speeches ran from the "I am honored" of George Miranda to the "Make the vote count" of Dawn Wilson.

Students Invited To View Bridge

Giving State students a chance to get a close-up view of bridge operations on the San Francisco and Golden Gate Bridges, an invitation to accompany the students of Education 353 when that group takes an extended tour of the bay on Saturday.

The plan is to leave the Crowley pier, 14, and proceed to the Golden Gate bridge piers. From there the party will return via Alcatraz and the site of the 1939 World's Fair. A stop will be made at Yerba Buena Island to inspect the tunnel work on the San Francisco bridge. The tour will be completed with an inspection of the Rincon Hill anchorage.

Accompanying the group will be a lecturer who will explain the salient points of the construction of the structures. A fee of 60 cents will cover the cost of the trip. The time has been set for 8:30 a.m. to 12 m.

Vote NO! and Avoid This Nice Rush Job!

EDITORIAL

Vote No! on the new constitution. It is with some hesitation that the Golden Gater recommends this step. However, the student officials are trying to force the issue with a vote upon the completed document. Undoubtedly there are too many evasive and poorly constructed paragraphs that need close study to make such a step possible. There is a definite need for constitutional change as the present document is inefficient. However, will this proposed remedy be a real remedy?

The vote on the new charter should be made the subject of the careful scrutiny and study of every voter. Many of the clauses are of questionable construction and may provide loopholes for evasion.

The Golden Gater is advocating this study in the hope that a definite realization of the influence that this constitution will have on the student body. The question of the consolidation of classes is a moot point and should be a much debated question.

The fact that the constitution makes absolutely no provision for the editors of the various publications is another point to bear in mind. According to the framers of the constitution, the Board of Publications will appoint the editors. Under the new charter, the only power given to the board is for the arrangement of the publication of the Golden Gater and the Franciscan and other publications.

What makes this question important is the clause that gives the president the power to appoint all student body officers not elected by the students or otherwise provided for in the constitution. Since there is no definite provision for the editor it would seem that he will be at the beck and call of the president, since the clause pertaining to the arrangement of publication could be interpreted as meaning the arrangement of printing contracts, etc.

Undoubtedly, there is much in the new charter that is worthwhile and should be adopted. But the question is, "Do the jokers that have slipped in balance the worthwhile clauses?" Elsewhere in this issue of the Golden Gater is a complete copy of the new document. It should be read and studied carefully.

The Golden Gater would be more than willing to ask a "Yes" vote on the constitution. Under the present circumstances it feels that it is in no position to make a favorable recommendation for the new constitution.

Read the constitution! It will probably bear out the contention of the Golden Gater that such a document should not be put to a vote as a whole.

For the good of State and for your own good make a serious study of the constitution and then vote No! until the document can be submitted by sections for approval.

Study Student Union Opinions

Planning a definite organization for State's Student Union, a study of various Union houses and organizations of different colleges is being undertaken by the committee in charge. With the idea in mind that the Union plan could be expanded into a self governing body of students and incorporating an honor system, the leaders in the move were working along two lines.

Besides the study of the Student Unions of such colleges as Stanford and California, the committee was preparing a questionnaire to determine the status of student opinion on the matter. Seeking reaction to such questions as to the management and advisability of having a Union, the blank will be distributed to boxes of the Student Body on Wednesday. The Golden Gater box will be posted in the Co-op as a place to deposit the blanks.

Commenting on the questionnaire, Will Smith, chairman of the committee, declared, "We are seeking the assistance of the study body to determine just how the student opinion stands in the matter of providing for a student union at State. We are asking the cooperation of every student so that we may have a complete cross section view of the ideas of the students. It will help us immeasurably in shaping the course for the Union plan."

Under a change in plan, the Union will be formed with a compulsory fee, set at a maximum of fifty cents, added to the registration dues. This sum will be devoted exclusively to the Union and will be set aside for a period of at least one year. At that time it is believed that there will be sufficient funds available to purchase outright, a house for the Union.

Cast Completed For "Sun Up"

Rehearsals are going along at top speed in the latest college theater production, "Sun Up," stated Miss Casebolt, director of the play. The unfilled role of the preacher has been given to Dick Marsh, veteran of the local college stage.

Because of Marsh's unusual handling of the very difficult dialect of the part he was the unanimous choice for the part. Southern dialect of the South Carolina mountains is spoken throughout the production. At the time the Gater went to press, the first two acts were completely memorized and the first part of this week it is expected that the entire play would be rehearsed.

An interesting note was found in connection with the play when Miss Allcutt, supervisor at Frederic Burk, stated she knew the author of "Sun Up" and had heard her read from the original manuscript down in the Imperial Valley during Miss Allcutt's first year of teaching.

In 1923 Miss Allcutt saw the play presented in New York and in the same year heard Miss Vollmer discuss it at Teachers' College, Columbia. At that time the play was called outstanding because of the true interpretation of the mountain folk.

Pathos, comedy and tragedy run hand in hand in the play. It is direct propaganda against war and clearly portrays how much of the World War was completely out of the understanding of the many illiterate of the nation.

Widow Cagle (Ann Lindquist) is the most forceful character of the play in as much as she so definitely portrays an old woman of the mountains. Tickets will go on sale the first of the week. The Parent Faculty Club will sponsor the sale of the tickets with the aid of members of College Theater.

Ru Gets Jolt--Mistake Made

Chronicle Puts His Name Under Wrong Picture; Stone Scores 29 Markers in Nevada Battle

Was Ru Stone surprised? State's "One-Man Track Team" glanced at an early edition of yesterday's Chronicle, thinking that possibly the downtown daily might have given him a writeup. "Ah," he exclaimed, as he saw his name below a picture on the second page of the sporting green.

"What's this?" he asked. For there was portrayed an elderly gentleman of about sixty summers, weather-beaten face, and quizzical smile. Ru wasted no time in hurrying to the mirror to make sure that he hadn't changed. With a sigh of relief, he realized he hadn't. (And his performance at Reno proved it.)

The whole matter was cleared up in a later edition of the Chronicle. The same picture was run, but a new name was placed under it—that of one "Vic Petri" and, lower down on the page, Ru's picture (this time the right one) in Jack Rosenbaum's column, "Overheard."

Incidentally, Stone had a "bad day" Saturday up at Reno. 'Twas so sad.

Creeping shakily out of his sick bed, where he was confined with the flu, he journeyed up to the Nevada metropolis. In the triangular meet against the University of Nevada and the Cal Aggies, he wasn't expected to do his best.

His best was only twenty-nine points. Only once in his career has he done that well, scoring the same number of points against Chico State. At Reno, he took four firsts, high jump, broad jump, javelin, and broad hurdles; tied for first in the pole vault; took a second in the shot put; and a third in the discus.

It's too bad he was ill. You can't tell what he might have done.

A measly twenty-nine points. Why didn't he take off the anchor?

Another thing one could bring up is the fact that the Gater came within four points of "picking" State's score. Not bad!

Stag Dinner on A. W. S. Calendar

"Have you signed up for the Associated Women Students' Dinner? If you haven't, you'd better sign up right away. That is, if you don't want to miss the biggest 'stag' affair of the year, which is for women students only," is the question being asked women students.

"The details? The date is Wednesday, April 29, at 5:15 p.m. in the Co-op, downstairs. The price is just thirty cents per plate. Surely you can't afford to miss a delicious dinner and an evening of fun at that price," says Alice Moroney, club president.

A. W. S. Candidates
President—Dorothy Jean White.
Vice-President—Louise Parodi.
Secretary—Victoria Regier.
Betty Isles.
Treasurer—Francis Lynn.
A. W. S. elections will be held at the same time and in the same place with general student body elections. All women are urged to vote.

Hear Madrigals, Block Flute Tomorrow Night

Elizabethan Singers and New Block Flute in Second Music Festival Program

By MEYER CAHN
The Spring Music Festival, which opened last Wednesday evening with performances by the Carolers and the College String Quartet, continues tomorrow night with a program featuring the Madrigal Singers. Two important attractions will be the Recorder Quartet (Block Flute) and a group of clavichord selections played by Miss Eileen McCall, director of this evening's affair.

The Madrigal Singers, the Clavichord, the Lute and the Recorder are all products of the 16th century. The program will be not only consistent in its setting but authentic in every detail. Sets for the occasion have been made by Frank Ray and his stagecraft classes.

Purchased Instruments
An authority on English Madrigals and ancient instruments, Miss McCall, in her European sojourn last year, purchased many old instruments, many of which can be found nowhere else in the United States. A few months ago, when all the recorders arrived from Germany, she taught four young men, Paul Barret, Lou Harrison, Kenneth Bayless and Easton Wiley how to play these old but extremely interesting instruments. These performers have become rather proficient and tomorrow night's audience will hear something that has probably never been done before in this country.

One of the quartet's selections will be a Courante, a 16th century dance, which will be danced by a group selected by Miss McCall. In the proper Elizabethan costume, this should furnish one of the highlights of an evening replete with entertainment.

Selected Group
The dance is being coached by Miss Jeanette McCall, a graduate of State and sister to Miss Eileen McCall. She has been featured in Fox films, R-K-O and stage productions.

The State Madrigals are a selected group of singers who were organized by their present director, Miss Eileen McCall, and who have established a reputation extending far beyond the bay area. Aided by their director, who has devoted years to the study of this type of music, this group has excelled in their three former annual programs.

Alpha Gamma to Give Scholarship

Outstanding high school journalists from Northern California will compete in the second Alpha Gamma journalism scholarship to be offered by Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary press fraternity. Tests will be given at the college on May 9.

Sponsored by the State chapter of the fraternity, the scholarship includes one year's tuition, covering registration fees, books, an annual, and incidental expenses.

The test to be given the high school newsmen will consist of writing a lead to a news story; one hundred objective questions of true-false and completion type; a problem in makeup; and questions dealing with phases of business management. Judges for the scholarship examination will be Dr. Lawrence Kinnaird and various staff members of the Golden Gater and other outstanding students in the field in the college.

As a preliminary event, the aspiring candidates will be invited to the Publications dinner, to be held the night of the test, according to present plans.

Eligibility rules have been laid down by the chapter. According to Harold Martin, chapter president, the contestants must be graduating seniors from California high schools; must have a scholarship rating of "C" or above; and must be outstanding in journalism activities at their individual high schools.

VOTE TOMORROW!

The Union Will Be Financially Sound

Questioning the financial stability of the proposed Student Union, a few people on the campus seem to think that the project will be doomed to fail before it is even started. Of course, the backers of such a worth while enterprise can only point to the success of the plan in other colleges as an answer to these critics.

Take the case of Stanford. The Union enterprises at that college netted a profit of some sixteen thousand dollars. Stanford has only about five times as many students as State. Along with that sixteen thousand dollars the men of the institution turn in some seven thousand dollars a year in dues. The dues are not needed! They are being paid on the behest of the Stanford student body and are being turned over to the fund that is building a memorial theater on the campus. Incidentally, some seventy-five per cent of the profits of the Union also go to this fund.

These are the facts. Indisputable, they will be taken up by the critics of the plan at State in an attempt to discredit them. Yet, with efficient management, the same could be duplicated at State on a lesser scale. There is no reason why it cannot be duplicated! There is no reason why the Union could not be governed by the students and run by student employees! There is no reason why the students should not have the benefit of such a project that will mean much in the way of building up the college spirit and in expanding the program of activities that are needed if State is to continue to grow!

As the Stanford Daily says, in commenting upon the Union, "So, as in the beginning it's the student who pays, in the end it's the student who benefits."

Voice Your Opinions At Polls Tomorrow

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE! Editorials about voting come and go but the slackers that it aims at seem to go on forever.

Tomorrow students will have the opportunity to vote for student body officers and a proposed new constitution.

A matter of this kind should be of vital importance to every State student. His own student government embodying all the principles of democracy and a newly revised constitution to guide that government in any tempest that it may entail on its coming journey, should be so close to the heart of every Stater that the matter of voting should be "a second nature."

Of course, there are some members who do not have to read this. In fact to them it would be just a waste of time. We mean by this that there is a very group that is prevalent in all student activities. To them is due all credit of setting up changes and seeing that the student body government functions perfectly. But students with these virtues are only a small minority.

How powerful denunciations could be if they could be bottled and given as a cure in the form of votes.

Did you ever realize that the biggest "blow-off" today are the ones that "just can't be bothered voting". One hears the trite phrase, "What difference does one vote make"; none we assure you. But the person that uses this time rotted phrase usually belongs to a majority that could combine all their "one votes" into a voice so powerful that its cry would be heard on the distant Mars.

The Gater wishes that it has made itself clear.

Regardless of what you think. Voice your opinion at the polls tomorrow in the form of a vote. Regardless of what you think you'll find that all the candidates on the ballot reflect at least one of your opinions on how we are to be governed during the following year.

How Are You Voting?

Tomorrow is election day. This has become evident by the numerous, conspicuous, gayly-hued banners exhibited around the campus (?). If any student doesn't know that tomorrow a new staff of student body officers will be elected, it isn't the fault of our artists or campaign managers.

"Me for the students—99 and forty-four one hundred percent." "Why, their platform wooden (gosh!) do for a kindahghdm organization." "What we need in this colitch is a demoaquacktic administration." There's quite a hubbub around the college and tomorrow all accounts will be straightened. It's really a serious situation. All you need do is step through the green curtain enclosing the voting machine, pull the correct levers, and you've voted. Directions will be given.

Not mentioning any names, but we think he's best for president; and secretary—well . . .

MUSICAL NOTES

By MEYER CAHN

A severe disappointment was suffered by your scribe at the premiere of Meredith Willson's symphony last week. A close follower of Willson for the past few years, I wanted to like his last opus. But syncopation, meaningless chord sequences, brassy fanfares and solo tympani passages are not entities in symphonic writing. Their constant use prevents the composed from carrying out a unified musical idea. Jazz theatrics are not conducive to emotional expression.

The music and the orchestral treatment are not modern nor are they outstanding. Willson showed an affinity for brass effects, but did not succeed in handling his woodwinds, brass, and especially his strings, with much degree of mastery and homogeneity.

The "box-office" ending to the first movement finally convinced us that Mr. Willson's symphony was not opera house material but "radio stuff." It might be called "an NBC Symphony."

Perhaps we are being too severe with this composer's first symphony. The good points in it were emphasized in our daily papers, who were exceptionally kind to Mr. Willson.

Mr. Willson has vigor, youth, background and seriousness of purpose. Perhaps his next symphony will be more impressive. We hope so.

Yes, the tickets for the concerts on the Spring Music Festival are FREE. The only catch is that a limited number of tickets are given away so that early ones are sure of receiving them. If you've never gone to one of these affairs, try one and you may surprise yourself. They're not so bad. . . . Really.

The opera schedule for next season is all set. Interesting among the announcements is the fact that Lawrence Tibbett, Kirsten Flagstad and Lottie Lehman will once more appear here. Several Wagner operas will be done, including a popular priced performance of "Das Rheingold." Fritz Reiner will conduct the Wagner operas, replacing Arthur Sodansky, who conducted them this year. The season will open on October 30th.

Once again the dance chairmen get robbed. . . . It wasn't Gary Evers' band at the Junior Prom. . . . In the first place, Gary-Evers is a band belonging originally to two people. . . . Evers quit music over two years ago. . . . Second place, Freddy Nagle's Stanford band will comprise most of the G-E congregation . . . (they're better). . . .

RANDOM SHOTS

TOMORROW IS THE DAY

Wednesday, April 29 is positively your last chance to get that 1936 annual for $1. The type is being set up preparatory to running off the copy, so after Wednesday, late subscriptions will be of little use in enlarging your book. After tomorrow, the price is $1.25, unless you have previously deposited some amount. Persons will be seated at a table in College Hall today and tomorrow to take last minute deposits. Unless you can afford the additional cost, SUBSCRIBE NOW.

And now, with that little sermon off our mind, we will conclude with the usual material. . . .

IT MUST be terrible to be so young; you can't remember back before the depression.—Mrs. Monroe.

Black coal tar is the source of most of the important dye colors.

Besides supplying dyes enough to color Joseph's "coat of many colors," coal tar is the source of drugs, perfumes, flavoring materials, photographic developers, and explosives.

IF BOTH the President and Vice-President die, who gets the job?

Did we fall for this? Yes! According to Reinaldo Pagano, the Secretary of State does not get the job . . . the undertaker does! OooooH.

Snakes have hips.

This statement should really be modified, because not all snakes do have them, and those that possess "hips" only have rudiments. Many larger snakes (and smaller ones) possess pelvic girdles, to which the legs (if appendages are present). The place where the upper portion of the leg supposedly fits into the pelvic girdle is the hip.

STATE SLAMS

By C. ALL

Here's a rich piece of journalistic fruit that is worth all the space it takes. At the junior prom, Bud Decker spent the greater part of the evening in the arms of a luscious blond (not dancing). This young lady, quite a dance interpreter by the way, is most vehemently opposed to the Women Hater's Week. Mr. Decker, as is commonly known, is strongly for the move. Two and two never has equalled five, implying that there is plenty of dissension in the ranks of both sides.

What well known frosh coed was denounced as being too masculine for wearing cuff-socks? For a whole week she paraded on the campus exposing her naked limbs. The idea of this sweet young thing was to start a craze at State. But hats off to a certain man-about-the-campus who changed her sock philosophy. Now she gets, t-h, tsh, so nervous when anklets are mentioned.

What price love? Lee Armstrong got his big chance to parade before all the fems now that spring practice is in progress. At present the "bellowing basso" is hating about 500 and has some excellent phone numbers to make it 1,000.

One of State's mysteries—Why an affair like the junior prom passes on a deficit to its sponsors? It seems that activities which impart a swell time to all present always go in the red. Why?

Congratulations to Bill Lenhart who today reaches another milestone in life. When asked "How old," Bill, with his usual ear to car mile chuckled, "After I passed 25 I gave up trying to keep track of the years."

What well-known stater, massive and manly and with a smile for everyone (especially for ones of the opposite sex) makes an exodus to Los Angeles every week-end? When he leaves he's blue and balmy; when he's with us Monday morning he's laughable and light-hearted once again.

and on their recent radio programs. Their programs so far have been noted for their color and their impeccable taste.

Miss McCall Plays Clavichord

The madrigal is a secular contrapuntal composition of the 16th century which was sung very informally around the table following supper. The music is spontaneous, refreshing, vital, and stimulating.

The old Chamber Music group will also include an old German folk song, which Miss McCall has arranged for recorders, women's voices, and lute. The lute is a very rare instrument made by Dr. Hauser, considered one of the finest lute makers in the world.

The clavichord, to be played by Miss McCall, is a forerunner of the piano and is small enough to be carried by the performer. Its tone is very soft and delicate; it is our most sensitive keyboard instrument. Selections by Bach, who wrote much of his music for the clavichord, will be played.

Read, Men!

Chapel Hill, N. C.—(ACP)—Ben Neville, enterprising student at the University of North Carolina here recently set out to discover just what college women think of college men. He found out, too:

"College men are the most selfish and egotistical creatures on earth!" screamed the questioned co-eds. "They get drunk too much, they lack respect for girls and older people, they have no sense of responsibility for their social obligations."

"The thing that gets in my hair most," declared a Syracuse University girl, "is when boys won't stand when a girl enters the room; and I could scream when my partner keeps bumping into other couples on a dance floor. I hate unnecessary profanity, and I don't like loudness in a boy, either." In short, there's nothing much that's good about the American male as he is found in college.

There is still hope, however. A market does exist for the campus Romeo—providing he's remodeled. A sense of humor, ruggedness of feature rather than good looks, ability to know when he's had enough to drink, a little athletic ability, and above all consideration and politeness are components of The Ideal, co-eds agree.

Sports Chatter

By DAVE SCHUTZ

The curtain is slowly descending on the most successful athletic season in the history of San Francisco State College has been experienced. Only one more track meet, one crew race, and a handful of baseball games remain on the schedule before the final tabulations are figured.

Probably the best part of the whole thing is the fact that this college was able for the first time, to readily defeat its two big rivals, Chico State and San Francisco Junior College. Up to the season we had beaten Chico once, while the Jaycee had defeated us in the only athletic battle with the Gaters, this season, starting with basketball, and ending up with track. State announced their competitors rather recently.

Against Chico, we won in basketball, the first casaba conflict ever won by State in that sport, and track, the first victory in the cinder sport since 1925. The loss that we sustained at the hands of the Wildcats was held to a basketball contest.

The Jaycee was harder hit than the Gaters. After beating the Purple in their first basketball game, the Rams were trounced four times in a row. First the basketball team had revenge by turning the tables on Chico and White quintet. Then came an overwhelming win registered by the water baseball team, the largest margin up by the nine this year. The tennis team took its cut at the hands of the collegians next by nosing them out. Finally, the track team walked away with their fourth win of the year, the Powell Streeters, while only one was being countered.

Football takes the limelight now. Coaches Hal Harden and Dan Farmer will soon be able to devote all their time to this sport, which is really the most important from the standpoint of the outsiders. With all of the freshmen that were on the team last year plus those who entered this term, and those who will come in next semester, State should experience its best year in this sport too.

Forty-five gridgers are already out of the sport and about ten more will probably turn out next term, which makes this the biggest response to the call of the turf that has ever been seen in this college.

Gater Netmen End Good Year

Bringing the tennis season to a close Saturday at San Jose, the Gaters of one of their most successful seasons. Ron English, labeled "the diminutive racketeer," is yet to be defeated in college tennis. The attention of both the inside world and the outside audience by his steady game, Ronnie maintained the same brand of tenacious play throughout the year. Another factor in the success of the team has been the improvement of Collins and Harry Post. The team moved up from seventh position to third, while the doubles teams little extent.

For Cahn played his usual strong game and Babe Arlington, Joe Rosen, and Fumantes rounded out a solid team. With the exception of Cahn, the Gater team will be most intact next year, with Ron English, ranking number one in returning.

Baseballers Battle Albany High School In Game Friday

Gaters Look for Breeze in Second Game of This Year

Their first battle with the Albany High School nine resulting in a battle, the Gater baseballers are looking forward to their second encounter with the Prepsters as a warmup for the tussle with Salinas Junior College at Salinas Saturday. The game will be played at Albany's home diamond.

Pitcher Doubtful As usual, the problem of a starting pitcher is a doubtful factor in the coming battle. George Powles may pitch if he is available, however, either George Bogdanoff or Kenny Wilkes, who shut the Menlo J. C. out in his first game, have an even chance for the starting mound job. Wilkes will probably get the call as Bogie will be needed at first as Bob Marcus will probably not be present, while Frank Regan can easily fill in for Kenny at shortstop. Gavron may also start, having already beaten Albany.

The High School showed little in their last game with the locals which can even give them a chance of hoping for a win. State outplayed them on the field and at bat.

Hitting Lowered In the past two weeks when the Gaters were running up against their toughest competition of the season, the batting average for the team dropped from .296 to .276. However, the team fielding which had averaged about four or five errors a game has jumped considerably upward.

While Hal Wood still leads in a majority of the individual records, his batting eye is somewhat off its early season form. Wood's average, although not a bad .308, is still lower than his admirers had expected.

Lineup the Same

Coach Hal Harden probably will not shift his lineup much from that which has started most of the games during the last couple of weeks. If Gavron hurls the lineup will consist of Wilkes, shortstop; Lee, second base; Regan, right field; Walter, third base; Wood, center field; Purcell, left field; Bogdanoff, first base; Eich, catcher, and Andy tossing.

However, if Wilkes chucks for the Purple and Gold, Regan will move to short and Bowers will take over right field. With Bogdanoff on the mound, Lee or Regan will take first base, with Turner in the game at second.

San Francisco State athletic news, as purveyed by Harold Martin, has been "crashing" the local daily newspapers consistently of late. Especially information concerning Rumar Stone and his chances in the Olympic Games.

State's First Spring Football Practice Held

Thirty-five Hopefuls on Hand for Initial Gridiron Call

Coach Dan Farmer Leads Forces of Field

By AL KATSCHINSKI

Footballers blotted out the vernal sun yesterday and eclipsed the sport-spotlight from the B.V.D.-clad tracksters and baseballers as thirty-five behemoths answered coaches Dan Farmer and Hal Harden's call for State's first spring practice.

Four Week's Practice Slated

Yesterday's premature "pigskinning," according to Farmer, launched what is to be a four week's period of serious, exacting football work, the purpose of which is to add "polish" to the fundamentals of the game that was formerly impossible with only a fall training program. Punting, passing, pass receiving, and the running-through and timing of next semester's football plays are all to be included in the Monday through Thursday, four o'clock sessions.

Positions Doubtful Experimentation in team positions, which was likewise impossible, will also be employed. "Last season," Farmer said, "we couldn't be sure what the men on the team could do. We had expert punters and passers playing in the line. However, as a part of our 'New Deal' in State football, every player will be tested for hidden possibilities. New men, in this way, will have a chance to get acquainted with all branches of our football system."

While Hal Wood still leads in a majority of the individual records, his batting eye is somewhat off its early season form. Wood's average, although not a bad .308, is still lower than his admirers had expected.

Approximately 50 girls represented San Francisco State College last Saturday at the Tri College Sports day.

Basketball and tennis were the features of the day. The affairs of the day were completed by a luncheon and a meeting of all the W. A. A. officers from San Jose State, San Mateo J. C. and San Francisco State.

After a three-day stay in Minneapolis, Miss Marguerite Winter, Miss Blanche Tugger, students at State, and Miss Velda Cundiff, instructor, are homeward bound revealed Miss Virginia Kyriazi. The trip to Minneapolis was taken to attend the women's athletic convention. The main point discussed was about a new trend in the W. A. A. rules. Instead of electing the officers, they are now to be appointed by faculty members of the Physical Education department.

All W. A. A. members are anxious for the return of these three travelers and to hear all the news they have to tell.

Trackmen in Decisive Victory Over Aggies, Nevada in Reno Meet

Stone Scores Twenty-nine Points During the Afternoon

State's relay team, composed of Relfe Leavitt, Matt Sullivan, Kieth Cox, and Ronnie Lindlow, scored a spectacular victory over the University of Nevada and Cal Aggie quartets Saturday in the triangular meet at Reno to give the Golden Gaters a total of 77 points. Nevada was second with 44, and the Aggies third with 41.

At the finish of the first lap of the relay the three teams were less than two yards apart, the runners of the second lap finished in a dead heat, Cox gave the Staters a twenty-yard lead over Nevada in the third lap and Lindlow fought off a strong finish by Doug McDow of the Wolfpack to cross the finish line five yards ahead.

Staters Display Fight

Lindlow was a sick man before the race; his fighting spirit was typical of the entire squad's performance. The Staters chalked up eight wins and a tie for first, and five seconds to overwhelm the other two teams.

The combined opposition could not stop Rumar Stone. The State ace earned four firsts, a tie for first, and a second and third to chalk up twenty-nine points, bringing his total for the season up to 179. Stone won the javelin with a throw of 180 7 inches, finished far ahead of the field in the high hurdles, won the high jump at 5 feet 10 inches, and broad jumped 21 feet 3 inches to win by a one-inch margin over Jerry Havens of Nevada.

Tie in Pole Vault

The battle between Robert Rex, Aggies star, and Stone in the pole vault ended in a tie, both men clearing 12 feet easily, but failing as the bar was raised six inches. Bull Harkness was the victim of circumstances and was eliminated at 11 feet 6 inches for third.

Two Staters, Bob Robinson and Steve Ebert, came through with surprise performances. Robinson won the 880-yard run, defeating Dick Hastings of the Aggies and Ken Carpenter of Nevada in a close finish. Ebert annexed a first in the shot with his best heave of the season, 42 feet 6 inches. Stone was second with nine inches less, and Jones third two inches behind.

Hopkins Loses Close Race

Daryl Hopkins ran his best low hurdles race of the season, but was defeated by a six-inch margin by Dave Wright of the Aggies. The winning time was 24.4 seconds. Paul Leonard, Nevada sensation, won both the mile and two-mile by narrow margins. He defeated Stan Kuder in the first race after a powerful drive in the last fifty yards, and won the eight-lap event from Bufford Shreeve, diminutive Stater, in the same manner.

ARGUMENTS WITH UMPIRES AND COMEDY OF ERRORS ON FIELD MARKS WIERD GAME

Locals Smash Out Sixteen Bingles, Aggies Thirteen in 13 to 11 Victory of Local Nine Over the Davis Agriculture School

Bob Marcus Bangs Four Hits During Fracas; Joe Lee, Kenny Wilkes, Hal Wood Crash Three Each in Batting Comebacks

By DAVE SCHUTZ
Tuesday Sport Editor

Between friendly arguments with the umpire and an occasional error, State took time out to win a ball game from Cal Aggies last Saturday afternoon at Funston. The score was 13-11.

The game turned out to be the dizziest affair that the locals have engaged in all season. The little boys blue who officiated the contest had their hands full as both teams were in an arguing mood and were constantly hopping on their superiors.

Oarsmen Battle San Mateo J. C. Crew at Harbor

Hoping for a victory in their second crew race of the season today, State's oarsmen enter the battle with San Mateo Junior College as slight underdogs due to the lack of practice during the past few weeks.

Only Five Cinches

Although twelve men will be needed in the shell at race time, only five men are definitely cinched to start in the boat. These fellows include Harry Post and Harvey Williams, who will be in the stroke positions, while Frank Corbett, John Struven, and Hale Shaw are the others who are certain to be swinging an oar when the race starts.

In their first race with Galileo High School only nine of the twelve men appeared for the meeting. The prepsters naturally won having the full dozens in the race, but Chili Stachelokoff states that the crew will look a hundred percent better than in its initial appearance against the Lions.

Race at Yacht Harbor

The match will take place at Yacht Harbor starting sometime between 5 and 5:30 and a large amount of State enthusiasts should journey to the scene of the affair to back up this new athletic venture at this school.

The members of the crew are especially requested to show up for the race, because it will be impossible to win the event if there is no crew to represent the college.

Bolander, Thompson, English are Victors

Featuring victories by Ronnie English, Hal Thompson, and Gordon Bolander, the three favorites in the event, State's horseshoe championships started their second round yesterday at the campus horseshoe pits.

Approximately thirty have entered the competition which will reward the winners with purple and gold ribbons.

Bill Eich, who is in charge of the event, has stated that he hopes to have the second round completed before the week is over so as to get the tourney finished well before finals come around.

Consensus of opinion among the contestants is that the above trio will probably get to the semi-finals and that these matches will prove the most interesting of the entire meet.

Physical Education Club To Hold Supper at Beach

Ambitious members of the P. E. Club have suddenly come to life again, for, according to Dorothy Anderson, chairman of the club's social program, they will brave the cold and wind of China Beach tomorrow night for another Beach Supper.

Plans were to have various games on the beach, after which everyone will gather around the bonfire for supper.

Thelma Orr, club director, announced that the club will furnish a dessert.

Nine Plays Again

State's baseball team meets Albany High School in the second game of the series Friday at Albany. If the Gaters can win this contest they will win the series two games to none.

Wilkes Irked

The Aggies tried to ire Kenny Wilkes, but the little Gater infielder just smirked and started cracking out hits. In the first, Kenny's bingle started a two-run lead, which gave the Purple a momentary lead. Joe Lee cracked out his first of three hits, sending Wilkes to third, from where he scored on a poor throw to the plate. After two men were away, Bob Marcus, who led the sluggers with four hits, banged out a triple to tally Lee. This lead was short lived, however, as the Davis lads came back with three scores in their half of the second on four bingles. This rally was featured by Hal Wood's first error of the season.

Gaters Take Lead

After being held without a run in the second, the locals came back with three more runs in the third in the following manner: Floyd Walter walked, went to second on Marcus' second hit, and scored as Clint Purcell drilled a single to left. Wood then came through with his first of three bingles to tally Purcell. Marcus had already scored on the throw in from Clint's smash.

Again the upstaters took the lead when they came back in the fourth with a trio of markers. None of the runs were earned, however, as the Gaters were guilty of several miscues on the field.

Score Is Tied

To start the last half of the fourth, Wood cracked out a single to center, stole second and scored when Wilkes, after being chortled by the Aggie bench, bashed a one-baser to the same spot as Kood's blow had gone.

George Powles held the visitors scoreless in the fifth and sixth while State was adding two runs to its total. Marcus opened the sixth with a line single, went to second on Bogdanoff's walk, and sped to third as Wood came in contact with one of Pitcher Bishop's curves, and the bases were bulging. Bishop apparently blew up as he threw the ball into the dirt on his pitch to Eich and Marcus scored. Eich then grounded to the second baseman, but Bogie crossed pay dirt. Score, State 10, Aggies 6.

Lead Whittled Down

Three straight hits off Powles' delivery accounted for one run for the farmers, a double play, Regan to Lee to Bogdanoff, cutting the rally short. But they came back in the eighth to come within a run of the locals when two singles and an error gave them two more scores.

State, however, cinched the game in their half of the eighth as Marcus led off with his final hit of the contest and went to third on an error. A perfect squeeze bunt by Bogdanoff scored Marcus. Wood then laced out a hit, went to second on another Aggie miscue, and scored on Eich's only hit of the battle. Eich went to second on the throw to the plate, to third on a passed ball, and scored on a balk by the relief hurler, Jim Dobbins.

Rally Falls Short

The Gaters almost handed the game to the Davismen in the ninth. Pitcher Dobbins led off with a single, but errors by Lee and Regan gave the visitors two runs; however, Powles bore down and forced the batter to hit into a double play, ending the contest.

Hitting Features

Although the Gaters looked pretty bad in the field, they made up for it at bat by poling out sixteen bingles. Marcus' four smacks put him in the lead in batting. Joe Lee, Kenny Wilkes, and Hal Wood, who each banged out a trio of base hits, showed that they are out of their slumps.

the SANTA MARIA
Columbus' Flag Ship

*the ship that brought Columbus to America
..and tobacco
to the world*

*..and now
throughout the world
smokers are saying
They Satisfy*

History tells us that when Christopher Columbus' sailors took tobacco back home with them everybody hailed it as one of the first new pleasures in years.

Today tobacco gives more pleasure to more people than ever before.

Many different claims are made for tobacco, but most everybody agrees on this . . .

Smoking is a pleasure and the cigarette is the mildest and purest form in which that pleasure can be enjoyed.
